TWO SMALL FARES RECEIVED TODAY

BOSTON DRAGGERS LANDED
SMALL TRIPS OF FISH
AT FORT.

Two Boston draggers which arrived late yesterday afternoon, took out small fares of fresh fish at the Producers Fish Company this morning, being the only fish received here for three days.

The dragger Olivia Brown, scheduled to sail yesterday, remained in port, and this morning, the fish which she brought here Monday, were sold to the Cape Ann Cold Storage Company.

None of the gill net fleet were out yesterday, neither were the small trawlers or draggers, but most of the latter fleet hope to clear port before nightfall.

Gloucester Arrivals and Receipts.

The arrivals and fares in detail:

Olivia Brown, dragging, (Monday's catch), 10,000 pounds fresh fish.

On the Railways.

The dragger Four Sisters is on Rocky Neck railways for a slight overhauling.

TRAWLER HITS BARE MARKET--- CREW PROFIT

In the face of one of the biggest days of the season, when the market was heavily stocked with groundfish, the beam trawler Coot of the Portland Trawling Company, at Boston, Monday from Georges, made an admirable showing yesterday when she closed books for the trip. Capt. John M. Boland, weighed out a total of 201,685 pounds of fish, one of the largest single hauls landed recently, netting exactly $4895.30. The Coot had been out 11 days.

HADDOCK AT $5 THIS MORNING

LENTEN DEMAND AND LIGHT SUPPLY CAUSES BOOST IN BOSTON MARKET.

The second day of the Lenten season found only a small fleet at the Boston fish pier and a light supply of fresh fish. The seasonal demand and small receipts caused a stiffening of the market with a sharp increase in prices on all varieties. Receipts this morning totalled 201,000 pounds of groundfish and 60,000 pounds of mixed fish. Haddock brought $5; large cod, $4 and markets, $3 to $4.

The Yarmouth steamer brought 72 crates of live lobsters, the smallest lot in several weeks. A big supply of frozen smelts arrived from Canada, 3933 boxes and 29,700 pounds in bulk.

RUSH SEAMAN OF CUTTER TO THE HOSPITAL

Stricken with an attack of appendicitis, Jose Roque, a seaman on the U. S. C. cutter Mojave, was taken to the Addison Gilbert hospital this morning shortly before 11 o'clock, and was operated on shortly after noon.

The Mojave has been in harbor since Monday, and early this morning Roque was seized with pain which grew worse as time went on. Deeming medical attention necessary, Roque was taken to Base 7, from where he was conveyed in the police ambulance to the hospital for an operation.

Golden Haddock

A golden haddock, first of the species seen this year, was brought in at the Boston Fish Pier yesterday by the beam trawler, Ebb, which caught it on Georges. An ordinary four-pound specimen, the haddock has a coloring of light bronze from head to tail. It was turned over to the government fishery experts for study.
